Welcome Message

Dear readers,

I warmly welcome to the 36th issue of Journal of Current Pharma Research. For this year we came with some important enhancements in the Journal policy. We are publishing the special issue as “Topical Collection” to attend the less focused area. We have also broaden the scope of the journal and extends it to synthetic chemistry, which will enable faster processing rate of the articles and gives us scope to include more articles in a year.

We are also striving to publish excellent articles, and our rejection rates also increased as compared to last year 2018.

Despite of our efforts in making the journal more focused in area of research, we are getting less attention by the researchers due to their intention to publish the articles in impact factor journal, which cost us less submission. But instead of this we are maintaining our status and research standing to get our set goal. We are preparing ourselves to get indexed by top indexing agencies and get the valid impact factor.

We, glad to get many citations for our published articles, which are outcome of Google scholar and Perish.

In coming future also, we are focusing to release the issues based on the research themes, which could definitely help the scholars and researchers as well as readers.

I thank Dr. N. Udupa, Managing Editor as well as, the entire editorial board and reviewers for all their support. My warm welcome to the new members of the Editorial Board and Reviewers of the journal. We can work together for making the journal an influential publication. Comments, suggestions and special issue proposals are always welcome.
